

future ocean
KIEL MARINE SCIENCES

RESEARCH CONFERENCE

Advances in Integrated Ocean Research towards Sustainable Development

July 2 - 6, 2017 | Kiel, Germany

The conference will bring together different groups of marine experts for multidisciplinary exchange in the field of integrated ocean science in support of sustainable development.

Contributions are especially welcome from:

- research alumni of Marine Sciences in Kiel
- early career scientists working in integrated Marine Sciences
- marine scientists currently working in Kiel

Thematic Sessions:

Ocean Pressures
Ocean Resilience
Ocean Prosperity
Digital Ocean
Ocean Education and Lifelong Learning

Steering Committee (in alphabetical order)

Tania Anders, Walnut, CA, USA
Jan-Stefan Fritz, Brussels, Belgium
Anna-Katharina Hornidge, Bremen, Germany
Noel Keenlyside, Bergen, Norway
Andreas Kraemer, Berlin, Germany
Heike Link, Rostock, Germany
Jörn Thiede, Kiel, Germany
Martin Thiel, Coquimbo, Chile
Anne-Marie Treguier, Brest, France
Heike Vesper, Hamburg, Germany
Lixin Wu, Qingdao, China

Sessions will include invited keynote lectures and presentations by selected applicants and a poster session.

Timeline:

Deadline for submission of applications:
May 15, 2017 - deadline extended until May 28, 2017

Decision on contribution acceptance:
Early June 2017

Application and further information about the symposium at www.futureocean.org/kielconference2017

Contact

PD Dr. Gesche Braker and Dr. Nancy Smith,
'The Future Ocean', Kiel University
research-alumni@futureocean.org

The conference is organized and co-funded by the Cluster of Excellence 'The Future Ocean' in Kiel and supported by grants from the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) and the Herz Foundation.

DAAD

muthesius
kunsthochschule

ZBW

