Management & Leadership in Academia

Dr. Simon Golin, Golin Wissenschaftsmanagement, Hamburg

10 + 11 May 2017 | 9:00 – 17:00 h

New, time limited and complex – such are the tasks generally undertaken as projects. A work environment without project work and leadership is almost unimaginable nowadays. And this is not only true for the non-academic sector: Even the doctorate is a project!

During the workshop the participants familiarise themselves with the most important project management and leadership methods and instruments. The following topics are at the core of the workshop:

- | Basics of management & leadership: An overview
- | It is all about direction: Setting objectives
- | How to handle the unforeseen: Strategies for dealing with difficulties
- | Basics of team work & leadership: An overview of leadership tasks and styles
- | Manager-employee discussions as a leadership tool: Setting common objectives
- | Projects and leadership in the higher education sector: What are the idiosyncrasies of academia?
- | Role change: Staff member – colleague – boss
- | Management & leadership in academia: My next steps

Venue: Leibnizstraße1, 105a

ISOS PhDs have priority in our courses.

Child care can be provided if we have two weeks advance notice.
